The Turngike Era.

Between the years 1790 and 1840 in- day .- Atlanta Journal. numerable plans were made for the creation of turnpikes in the United States. There had been one great success, the Lancashire turnpike in Pennsylvania, and then came countless other projects. In 1811 New York had 137 chartered roads, with a total length of 4,500 miles, and the sum required to mature in the street cars: build them amounted to $7,500,000. An era of canal digging and then of railroad building followed this period, but schemes.
